Applications for the GRL Visiting Program 2027 are now closed.

GRL Visiting Program 2027

The Gender Research Library (GRL) at Nagoya University is now accepting applications for its 2027 Visiting Program, which will run from April 2027 through March 2028.

The Visiting Program aims to invite researchers in gender studies to the GRL for extended stays. Visiting Scholars will have the opportunity to pursue independent, gender-related research at the GRL and to engage with scholars at both the GRL and Nagoya University. The length of stay is negotiable, ranging from one week to twelve months. The GRL will provide travel expenses and a private office. Visiting Scholars are required to deliver one research seminar at the GRL (no teaching duties) and to contribute a report to GRL Studies.

Support Provided by the GRL

- Reimbursement of travel expenses (up to JPY 200,000)
- Private office space
- Logistical and administrative support from GRL staff
- On-campus housing at Nagoya University (accommodation costs must be borne by the visiting scholars).
  https://www.nagoya-u.ac.jp/international/iech/dormitory/index.html

Eligibility

Applicants must hold a Ph.D. or be a Ph.D. candidate in a relevant field and must be affiliated with a university or research institution outside Japan.

The Length of Stay

From one week to twelve months

Number of positions

One or two (subject to the availability of funding and office space)

Application Instructions

Applicants should submit the following materials and direct all inquiries to:
grljinji@t.mail.nagoya-u.ac.jp

1. A curriculum vitae (including a list of publications)
2. A one- to two-page proposal that includes a brief description of the applicant's previous research and their research plans for the stay at the GRL, including the title of the research and the intended dates of stay

Deadline

The application deadline was September 1, 2026.